MASTER

The Pile, interactive installation running video game, 2019-2022 (with Romain Sein, text from Madis Kurss). The Thomson M05 was a french computer produced in 1984. I played my very first video games on this machine.

Armory Show (Détente), wall installation, guns replica for kids 2016-2022. The French word "détente" could be translated as "chill". But in french it means "trigger".

News Feed, digital prints, drawings made from messenger app. 2022

Chicago Typewriter, Technical drawings about Thompson submachine gun from 1918. The Thompson submachine gun magazine for ammunition is also called in french "Camembert".

Tomy Pocket games, readymade, 1978-2022 (courtesy of the Videogame Museum LVLup!). If you go to the videogame game museum at Narva mnt 11 you can have a chance to look into "Museum in a Box" by Marcel Duchamp.

NIGHTMARE

Superliminal (aka Museum of Simulation Technology) is a first-person perspective puzzle video game where the player must deal with the relative size of the things. The player-character is a participant in a dream therapy program, but during the study, the character becomes trapped in a recurring dream cycle. It's a fantastic game, try it.

"When I was a kid in Corsica, my father was teaching me for many years how to shoot with real rifles and guns. He was telling me it can be useful some days."

KONAMI Code, tattoo, ink in flesh, 2021. If you are trying to guess what is my tatoo about, it is KONAMI code. A cheat videogame cheat code to unlock hidden levels or even to get infinite lives or other secret features.
